

Section 321 – Does not exceed $800 in Aggregated Shipments – Release 2

Last updated: December 6, 2024

On January 11, 2025, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) will deploy the second release of the Section 321 – Does Not Exceed $800 in Aggregated Shipments enhancement to the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE). This enhancement will provide a warning in ACE when a de minimis shipment may exceed the $800 per person/per day threshold. This release will include electronic data interchange (EDI) impacts.

What will change for trade users?

- ACE will provide a warning when a shipment may exceed the $800 per person/per day threshold for the administrative exemption under Section 321. The threshold will be based on the estimated date of arrival (EDA) for entry type 86 (ET 86) submissions and de minimis shipments to be released off the manifest only.
- A warning will be issued if a shipment's value or the aggregated value of shipments to a consignee exceed the threshold.
- This will apply to all modes of transportation, excluding mail.
- The warnings are advisory only; no action is required but action is encouraged by recipients in response to a warning.
- The warnings will be sent through EDI messaging as follows:
 - In response to de minimis shipments released off an air manifest, carriers will receive:
 - Express carriers will receive Warning Code 098: VALUE MAY EXCEED CONSIGNEE DAILY MAX ET86. In response to an airway BOL and persist the BOL but will generate the warning code
 - All carriers will receive Notification Disposition code 2M: VALUE MAY EXCEED CONSIGNEE DAILY MAX ET86 for each bill of lading (BOL) when a previously accepted BOL may exceed the threshold.
 - De minimis shipments released via an ET 86 through Cargo Release an ocean, air or rail carrier will receive:
 - Disposition code 2M: VALUE MAY EXCEED CONSIGNEE DAILY MAX ET86 for each bill of lading (BOL) when a previously accepted BOL may exceed the threshold.
 - In response to de minimis shipments released off a truck manifest, the filer will receive warning messages

Section 321 – Does not exceed $800 in Aggregated Shipments – Release 2

Last updated: December 6, 2024

- Status Notification Code SN517: Section 321's maximum daily value exceeded by Consignee.
- Disposition code 95: Section 321 max value exceeded.
- In response to an ET86 submission, brokers filers will receive:
 - A cargo release response message (SX) with a 284 warning condition DE MINIMIS VALUE EXCEEDED.
 - A cargo release status message (SO) for any associated entries with a text of DE MINIMIS VALUE MET.
- For more information, see the implementation guides listed under Technical Information below.
- This release will be available in the ACE certification environment on December 11, 2024, and in the ACE production environment on January 11, 2025.

Background

The growth in e-commerce has resulted in an influx of shipments that clear under the Section 321 de minimis exemption, which allows for the duty-free import of up to $800 in goods per importer per day. More than one billion de minimis packages were processed in FY2024. This enhancement is necessary to enable CBP to effectively manage risk with this segment of shipments.

Release 1 of this enhancement on July 25, 2024, added the requirement for estimated date of arrival for all ET 86 submissions in ACE. For more information on that requirement, see CSMS # 61421135 (Entry Type 86 Estimated Date of Arrival Requirement Deploys July 25, 2024) and the ACE Cargo Release CATAIR.

Release 3 will provide notification and withhold release of shipments ineligible for de minimis clearance when the $800 per person/per day threshold has been exceeded. Withheld shipments will not be released until appropriate entries are filed. The specific deployment date for Release 3 will be no sooner than February 11, 2025. An announcement and any necessary implementation guide updates will be provided in advance.
