Chief / EAC et al,

Thank you and your teams all for the hard work they did today on this list of 328 that HHS supplied to CBP for review. I know that they are now powering through the larger ZTP list but wanted to provide you with a brief analysis of the 328 that I just sent to C1.

The children were broken down into four categories: UAC, Fraud, FMUA Separated by CBP, FMUA Separated but Not Separated by CBP (ICE). If you add the four highlighted categories, you get 328.

- TOTAL UAC SUBMITTED FOR REVIEW: 328
- Total UAC at time of Encounter: 286
 - o 218 USBP
 - o 62 OFO
 - o 6 ERO
- NOT UAC AT ENCOUNTER OR FMUA (FRAUD): 13
 - o 8 USBP
 - o 5 OFO
- FMUA – Separated by CBP: 21
 - o 19 USBP
 - § 2 FMPO – ZTP
 - § 8 FMPC (Criminal History)
 - § 1 Security Concern
 - § 7 FMPO
 - § 1 FMPIV
 - o 2 OFO (Criminal History)
- FMUA – SEPARATED BUT NOT SEPARATED BY CBP (MOST LIKELY ICE): 8
 - o 1 ERO
 - o 6 USBP
 - o 1 OFO

Additional note: There were 125 apprehensions within the ZTP period and only 2 qualify to be added to the USBP ZTP master list being scrubbed by USBP now.

As I've mentioned, we may get one more list from HHS over the next 24-48 hrs for review. When they provide the new list, I will coordiante as I have previously in the past. I'll be over at HHS with the data team tomorrow.

Although this effort is tedious and manpower intensive, I think this shows great interagency effort and coodidnation on the part of CBP and I know that it is greatly appreciated across the spectrum of agencies.

If you have any questions, please don't hesistate to contact me.

Thank you again, great work by all,

Sir,

10-4, I'll have that age break down for you tonight/tomorrow morning. I need to redo the list since I don't have that exact breakout (was just going to ask you for the specific groupings (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) thank you!).

We will have the Prosecution Report for you tomorrow morning (I should receive the draft tonight).

I'm happy to back brief you tomorrow morning after Intel prior to your Sen Johnson Prep. Looks like you might have a few minutes available then.

Thanks,

Thanks in advance.

+ Meghann, who was just telling me that Chairman Johnson and larger congressional frustration came up at length during Chad's Chief of Staff meeting at the NAC today.

(b) (6), (b) (7)(C) said tonight that his discussions at HHS today made him want to review all of our ZTP records again, which makes me cautious about this.

That said, Meghann was just saying that we need to provide more transparency into why this process is complicated (your point).

(b) (6), (b) (7)(C) will need to point us to the best, most recent list to use. There have been small changes every day for the last few days.

In talking with him, he (and his boss) recognize that CBP has been proactive in providing information. Bottom line, his complaints are not with CBP but with ICE and HHS (particularly HHS). I believe Johnson is also setting the stage for a hearing.

From my vantage point, as soon as we are allowed to release final age group numbers, Johnson's team will be my first email. Am really hoping we can get that done in advance of C1's meeting with Johnson tomorrow.

What questions / concerns have been raised by Senator Johnson or his staff? He indicates that he can't get answers from DHS. I'm not aware of any of his concerns. Has he written a letter?

The Senator has been an advocate for us and to have him voice this frustration publically is a not a good thing. I want all hands on deck this morning to address first thing.

July 10, 2018 – 3:31 AM

<https://www.cnn.com/2018/07/09/politics/ron-johnson-family-separation/index.html>

(CNN) - Senate Homeland Security Chairman Ron Johnson voiced deep frustration at the Department of Homeland Security's handling of separated families at the southern border, saying the lack of progress in steps to reunite children with their parents "boggles my mind."

"We're not making progress in terms of reunification," Johnson, a Wisconsin Republican, told CNN on Monday, labeling the government's "lack of information" as "unsatisfactory."

"If they got a process, they're not revealing the process to me," Johnson said. "These are human beings. ... I'm just not getting the answers I would have thought they should have on the tips of their fingers. It boggles my mind. I just would assume that the connection in all these things are tracked -- and that the reunification would have been a relatively simple matter."

Asked if he had confidence in Homeland Security Secretary Kirstjen Nielsen, Johnson said: "I just want my questions answered." He signaled a willingness to hold a hearing with administration officials to get answers to his questions.

Johnson's criticism is significant because he's a close ally of the Trump administration, and wields a powerful committee gavel that could invite more scrutiny of the administration's mishandling of the situation at the border, which has drawn widespread criticism. He suggested his own manufacturing company did a better job tracking the use of plastics through the supply chain than the US government is doing in tracking migrant children separated from their parents.

While he acknowledged challenges in ensuring children are not given to the wrong adults, he said the Trump administration had failed to provide lawmakers with solid answers in a conference call last week.

"I have not been satisfied with the information that we've gotten," Johnson said. "I'm not particularly satisfied with that conference call that we had with other senators" either.

The government is scrambling to comply with a court order and come up with a reunion process by the end of the month for thousands of immigrant parents and kids it separated at the border. A judge ordered nearly two weeks ago that officials reunite the families, many of whom were separated a result of the Trump administration's "zero-tolerance" policy.

Attached is the CBP (specifically USBP) Data set for May 5 – June 20 of those that CBP had separated under Zero Tolerance (both the children and their adult who they were apprehended with). This is the same list I sent you twice today only on this list, I have highlighted in yellow the 22 UAC who fall into the age group 0-4. During a cross check of the data that (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) supplied the other evening, I found seventeen (17) matched your data. I found that five (5) that we have within our data were not listed on your sheet but were listed as 'Admitted' in the UAC Portal. We are still going through the list of 124 that you supplied but have noticed that many are OFO POE cases so we are reaching out to them for their review. Once that is done, I will provide the data elements you requested and a summary back of what we have found.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

(b) (6), (b) (7)(C)
