Subject: 4th Amendment Training Civil Response

Attachments: Updated Consolidated MFF VOL LIST JFK Jun02 1230 hours.xlsx

Good afternoon – NYFO has arranged for OCC to provide 4th Amendment training for the officers who volunteered for possible deployment. OCC will host a WebEx conference call this afternoon at 1600 hours. All officers on the attached list will be included in the invitation to follow. We would like to get as many officers on the line as reasonably possible so I appreciate any assistance in making that happen.

Call details to follow. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks.

Interesting world right now. I got this message and wanted to see if NY OCC had responded to anything yet regarding:

“A state law making police use of chokeholds a felony took effect June 18. At the same time, the City Council passed a law ensuring that a cop could face misdemeanor charges if they are accused of sitting on, kneeling, standing or in any way compressing a person’s neck, chest or back.”

Have you seen this? Does this affect prone cuffing or being mounted on someone for CBP?

DFOs,

Things have changed since the previous email. I need each field office to identify the number of people you have that could be deployed to assist FPS if requested over the next 48 hours. I'm not going to mandate a minimum number and only those locations that you believe could be required to provide assistance are needed. The number of personnel and the locations should be based on the same criteria mentioned below; local threat, current intelligence, and discussions with FPS. I don't need names, only numbers.

For example:

Field Office
Port of entry A: 10
Port of entry B: 7

I'm not expecting a number for every port of entry but I do expect at least a one or two, maybe more from each field office. I'm sure many of you have experience with this and will pull from previous events. The information needs to be submitted to Field Liaison by 1700 EST so it can be compiled with the other agencies in DHS. I apologize for the short turnaround and contact me if you have any questions.

DFOs,

As a follow up to the guidance that went out on Wednesday and based on your local discussions with FPS regarding potential support over the Holiday weekend, please have any officers that you identify to potentially deploy complete the one hour on line training scheduled to take place at 1700 EST today. If they have already completed this training, there is no need to take it again.

The number of personnel that should take the training is a field decision based on local threats, intelligence, and discussions with FPS. I strongly encourage you to have at least some officers take the course that are on duty this weekend or that you may have have already identified just to be safe.

FPS automatically generates a count by location so I am not requiring a reporting requirement for the training. Discussions continue to take place at the headquarters level regarding the potential for civil unrest in numerous cities so please monitor local activities and relay any requests for assistance to Field Liaison as previously directed. Thanks and contact XD Vernon Foret if you have any questions.

Directors,

If your Field Office receives a request to support FPS, in your request to FLD you will need to provide the number of personnel deployed, designation (SRT or CBPO), and what functions they will perform for tracking purposes in the attached spreadsheet. If XD Foret approves your request the appropriate number of supervisory CBP personnel must accompany the deployment. All personnel must work with FPS and under their direction. U.S. Customs and Border Protection

MEMORANDUM FOR: All U.S. Customs and Border Protection Officers
New York Field Office

FROM: Troy A. Miller
Director, Field Operations
New York Field Office

SUBJECT: The Impact of New York City Administrative Code § 10-181

The purpose of this memorandum is to inform all CBP Officers within the New York Field Office (NYFO) of the potential legal and tactical impact of the addition of Section 10-181 to the Administrative Code of the City of New York. Section 10-181 reads as follows:

§ 10-181 Unlawful methods of restraint. a. Unlawful methods of restraint. No person shall restrain an individual in a manner that restricts the flow of air or blood by compressing the windpipe or the carotid arteries on each side of the neck, or sitting, kneeling, or standing on the chest or back in a manner that compresses the diaphragm, in the course of effecting or attempting to effect an arrest.

b. Penalties. Any person who violates subdivision a of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment of not more than one year or a fine of not more than $2,500, or both.

c. Any penalties resulting from a violation of subdivision a of this section shall not limit or preclude any cause of action available to any person or entity injured or aggrieved by such violation.

The provisions of this law apply to all CBP Officers working within New York City. According to the Less Lethal Instructor Training Program (LLITP) Instruction Guidebook (IGB) Chapter Four: Handcuffing and Supplemental Restraints, and Less Lethal Training Branch leadership, there are no handcuffing techniques (if performed correctly and according to procedure) that require compression of the neck or diaphragm. However, there are a number of situations involving ground fights with uncooperative subjects where an officer or agent might temporarily kneel on the subject in a manner that compresses the diaphragm in an effort to obtain a position of advantage to effect an arrest. It is critical for all CBP Officers within the NYFO to understand the legal implications of using techniques that arguably violate section 10-181.

According to CBP's Office of Chief Counsel (OCC):

While CBP Officers must always abide by federal law and DHS and CBP policy, failure to do with regard to the conduct regulated by Section 10-181 may result in criminal or civil liability. Accordingly, it is critically important that officers recognize that DHS and CBP policies and guidance on use of force and handcuffing and restraint techniques continue to apply, and that the use of any technique that may violate Section 10-181 must be necessary to effect a lawful arrest, and applied pursuant to LLITP IGB guidance and training. NYFO Special Response Team (SRT) and LLI personnel will deliver additional training to all officers on arrest techniques with an emphasis on "necessary and proper" application in the context of Section 10-181.

As CBP officers, we are entrusted with significant authority, and we have a duty to act responsibly and with integrity at all times. There are times when certain actions arguably prohibited by this law may be the only option for officers to safely bring a dangerous situation under control. To ensure that any necessary actions do not result in criminal or civil liability, every CBP officer is responsible for knowing agency Use of Force policy, attending required less-lethal training, and exercising sound judgement.

Muster

Muster: Immediately

Topic: The Impact of New York City Administrative Code § 10-181

Point of Contact: OFO New York Field Office (b)(6), (b)(7)(C)

The New York Field Office (NYFO) is disseminating this muster to all CBP Officers within the NYFO for situational awareness and officer safety in response to the addition of Section 10-181 to the Administrative Code of the City of New York.

Facts about § 10-181:

- a. Unlawful methods of restraint. No person shall restrain an individual in a manner that restricts the flow of air or blood by compressing the windpipe or the carotid arteries on each side of the neck, or sitting, kneeling, or standing on the chest or back in a manner that compresses the diaphragm, in the course of effecting or attempting to effect an arrest.
- b. Penalties. Any person who violates subdivision a of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment of not more than one year or a fine of not more than $2,500, or both.
- c. Any penalties resulting from a violation of subdivision a. of this section shall not limit or preclude any cause of action available to any person or entity injured or aggrieved by such violation.
- d. The provisions of this law apply to all CBP Officers working within New York City.

Always Abide by DHS & CBP Policies:

- According to the Less Lethal Instructor Training Program (LLITP) Instruction Guidebook (IGB) Chapter Four: Handcuffing and Supplemental Restraints, and Less Lethal Training Branch leadership, there are no handcuffing techniques (if performed correctly and according to procedure) that require compression of the neck or diaphragm.
- However, there are a number of situations involving ground fights with uncooperative subjects where an officer or agent might temporarily kneel on the subject in a manner that compresses the diaphragm in an effort to obtain a position of advantage to effect an arrest.
- It is critically important that officers recognize that DHS and CBP policies and guidance on use of force and handcuffing and restraint techniques continue to apply.
- The use of any technique that may violate Section 10-181 must be necessary to effect a lawful arrest, and applied pursuant to LLITP IGB guidance and training.

Preparation:

- NYFO Office of Associate Chief Counsel is fully committed and engaged to provide timely, accurate information pertaining to Section 10-181.
- CBP Law Enforcement Safety and Compliance (LESC) will provide a virtual training and discussion with NYFO LLI's and SRT to talk through Section 10-181 and how CBP's Use of Force policies apply.
- NYFO SRT Operators will assist LLI's in delivering training to all officers on arrest techniques with an emphasis on "necessary and proper" application in the context of Section 10-181.

As CBP officers, we are entrusted with significant authority, and we have a duty to act responsibly and with integrity at all times. There are times when certain actions arguably prohibited by this law may be the only option for officers to safely bring a dangerous situation under control. To ensure that any necessary actions do not result in criminal or civil liability, every CBP officer is responsible for knowing agency Use of Force policy, attending required less-lethal training, and exercising sound judgement.

Good morning (b)(6), (b)(7)(C)

Thank you. Yesterday (just for awareness) (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) and I were asked to work the IDECC operation; we broke it up into shifts, and the IDECC officially deactivated at 0015 hrs. We did not participate operationally (out in the streets), but something we were actually asked (on an informal level, NOT formally or officially) is if there was ever any established contingency or operational plan for CBP personnel for the following:

- A. Mobilize and assist local, state, city, etc. in any type of crowd control, riot response, etc. if requested
- B. Mobilize for the protection and/or response to any federal buildings in the AOR, including our own offices/airports/etc.
- C. Does CBP have any type of advanced training for these types of situations

Naturally, I told them the basic answer to everything was SRT lol, and that we generally would not be asked to participate in actual crowd control, streetside riot response, etc. .... However, I guess what I'm trying to say and ask is that in the event something like this was to happen again, and things got really out of hand (even more than what we've seen the last couple of days), does the Field Office have any kind of actual operational plan or official procedure for anything like this? Once again, there was NOT any formal or official request for any TFOs to actually assist NYPD in riot or crowd control or anything like that, but just kind of got me thinking. I'm thinking SRT is actually the only CBP-specific and approved team to even begin to take part in any kind of response of this nature, but figured I'd ask. I know during the Trump ban on middle eastern countries back a few years ago, there were mass protests at JFK, and I know CBP was out there with PAPD.

Stay safe.

Please see the Port of NY/Newark deployment spreadsheet of all those who volunteered to assist with CBP force multiplier efforts as of 1030 hours 6/2/20. Please note that the spreadsheet is modified from the one previously submitted at 1900 hrs. The Port has removed managers that are deemed too critical to continuity of operations to be released at this time.

All concerned,

See attached worksheet containing the edited list of Mobile Field Force (MFF) trained officers for possible immediate deployment. The tab JFK MFF includes the MFF trained officers and the Volunteers tab is the list of volunteers that responded to the ENS message.

In total there were (b)(7)(E) MFF trained officers notified and (b)(7)(E) eager to volunteer (b)(7)(E) were unable to be contacted (b)(7)(E) are TDY (b)(7)(E) no longer at JFK (b)(7)(E) is out of the country (b)(7)(E) is SRT, and (b)(7)(E) is WSL).

In total there are (b)(7)(E) volunteers (not MFF (b)(7)(E) of which are supervisors that called in after the ENS.

Note: in the JFK MFF list there are several notations in the “Vol” column. “No” indicates officers that are MFF but did not want to volunteer. An “X” indicated officers eager to volunteer. No notation indicates notification received by other managers outside of the notifications made by the WC.

In response to the reduction in JFK flight operations caused by the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the below building access restrictions were implemented by the Port Authority of NY & NJ in collaboration with JFK's airline community and stakeholders on April 16, 2020. Coincidentally, these actions have assisted in the implementation of port hardening measures.

- Port Authority Police (PAPD) and Terminal 4 security personnel continue to enforce restricted access to airport employees, ticketed passengers and those on official airport business between the hours of 2100 – 0400hrs.
- In addition, Terminals 1, 5, 7 and 8 also continue to enforce nightly closures of the terminals (see below)

1. Any action(s) undertaken by your Component to prepare for or respond to any incident or event related to a civil disturbance;

At approximately 1055 hours, WC [redacted] received an e-mail from SCBPO [redacted] regarding "CODE BLACK" local protest that will occur at 12pm at Jamaica Parsons & Archer Station, which is approximately four (04) miles from JFK Airport. Although there is nothing to indicate that the protest will migrate to JFK Airport, all officers were reminded about the enhanced security measures. PD Russo and all APDS, along with CBP SRT and the PAPD were notified of the protest event. Additionally, JFK Assignments was informed and disseminated an email to all JFK CBP addressees about the protest.

CBP supervisors continue to muster all CBP personnel on ongoing events, port hardening measures, the need to maintain heightened situational awareness, increased vigilance and to take necessary safety precautions both on and off duty.

2. Changes (degradation or restoration) to your Component's ability to execute or sustain its homeland-security mission; perform a mission essential function(s); or support state, local, tribal, territorial, private-sector or international partners;

No impact to CBP operations at this time.

No requests for support from any of CBP's law enforcement partners have been received.

3. Changes to your Component's operating status, including the loss or restoration of Department mission-critical capabilities or the activation or deactivation of a Component-level Continuity of Operations plan;

The Port of JFK has been placed in a heightened security posture and continues to monitor the situation. CBP Continuity of Operations Plans (COOP) are in place, but there has not been a need to activate.

4. Accountability of personnel affected by any incident or event related to a civil disturbance, including reports of injured, deceased, or displaced Department employees and contract support personnel;

Nothing to report at this time.

5. Any amplifying information you believe would increase the Secretary's or Deputy Secretary's situational awareness or understanding of the situation.

There are no known specific threats to CBP personnel or the Port of JFK at this time.

A MESSAGE FROM DFO TROY A. MILLER

I am honored to serve as the Director of Field Operations for the New York Field Office (NYFO), an area of responsibility that embodies the melting pot that is the United States of America. Our NYFO workforce is incredibly diverse, and I am proud to be a part of this family.

This past week has been a historic, yet difficult, one for our Nation as we have seen powerful demonstrations supporting justice for George Floyd in every state. His death, at the hands of a sworn police officer has tarnished the image of integrity and accountability that is representative of the majority of the law enforcement community. Many of us have never encountered the injustices faced by our fellow citizens based on inequality or bias, but understand the anger and frustration. The people's right to peaceably assemble, and to present their grievances to the Government, is enshrined in the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. We, as America's Frontline, and all other law enforcement agencies at the federal, state, and local levels, must cherish and honor that right, but we must also stand ready to take action when violence and criminality attempt to overtake those peaceful protests. U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) will rapidly respond to assist our brothers-in-arms to bring lawless rioters and looters to justice.

CBP has always stood ready to protect this great Nation at and beyond its borders; now is no different. Nationwide, CBP has answered the call and deployed officers and agents to ensure that protests remain orderly and safe – for the protestors, the bystanders, the police, and for all others in the vicinity. On June 2nd, the NYFO began deploying CBP officers from the Ports of JFK and New York/Newark to assist our local law enforcement partners. It is our duty and responsibility to stand with our partners at all levels of government, and to assist in their efforts to stabilize our communities and bring these violent groups and individuals to justice.

Your safety remains our first priority. Practice greater vigilance on and off duty; threats have been made against law enforcement, with some specifically directed towards CBP personnel. We chose our path when we were sworn in as guardians of our great Nation. Every member of CBP, whether in uniform or plainclothes, took the same oath to uphold and defend the Constitution, and each of you contributes to our mission every day. We must remain steadfast in protecting America with honor and integrity.

The COVID-19 pandemic has proven that we are an incredibly resilient organization. We will weather this storm as well. Remain vigilant and stay safe at home and in the field.

We are America's frontline.

The below bullets came from the implication section at the very end of the piece.

1. Multiple REMVE-related Telegram channels have discussed carrying out attacks on protesters and law enforcement. On May 27, the Telegram channel, "TR," posted a photograph of a man holding a rifle and wearing mask with a skull, also known as a Totenkopf, and stated "if you are gonna go tour Minneapolis...don't forget essential kit." "TR," which was previously affiliated with an Atomwaffen Division (AWD) branch, routinely calls for political violence.
2. The May 30 issue of the ISIS-aligned Quraysh Media's magazine included the widely-circulated image of then-Minneapolis police officer Derek Chauvin with his knee on George Floyd's neck as he was being arrested, likely to attempt to entice new recruits with their claims of inclusivity. Text stating, "There is no difference between Arabic and not Arabic people and between white or black person, but except in piety" was written on top of the photograph.

Violence Escalates During Third Night of Protests in New York City; Nationwide Unrest in the Aftermath of Controversial George Floyd Death Continues

May 31, 2020 | 1400 hours

Summary of Events

Starting May 28, 2020, violent protests have taken place daily across New York City, stemming from the controversial death on May 25, 2020, of George Floyd in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Echoing protest-related violence in Minneapolis, Atlanta, Portland, Denver, Dallas, and Oakland, the activity in New York City has included arson, looting, and rioting, and NYPD personnel have been attacked with bricks, trash cans, and other projectiles, as well as homemade incendiary devices like Molotov cocktails. Compounding the ongoing threat of violence, ideologically-motivated actors from white supremacists to anarchists to Islamic violent extremists have used social media and propaganda to attempt to stir up and exploit the civil unrest across the country to further their own, unrelated agendas.

May 30, Union Square Manhattan

- Over 600 individuals have been arrested in New York since May 28, 2020, upwards of 50 NYPD officers have been injured—some seriously—and dozens of NYPD vehicles have been damaged and/or destroyed. Some officers have been doxed and threatened, and several local businesses have been looted or damaged.
- The visibly dramatic tactics, involving myriad uses of fire, suggests a concerted effort to magnify protest efforts across social media. Protestors have also been encouraged via social media to deploy drones to monitor the events and identify police officers, a tactic not commonly seen in protest activity in the area.
- As a result of the increasing violence and ongoing protest activity, 14 states have activated their National Guards, including California, Missouri, Minnesota, Ohio, Georgia, Colorado, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Texas, Utah, Washington, Tennessee, Nevada, and North Dakota, and the Pentagon has volunteered to send troops to help local authorities curtail violence.<sup>1</sup>

New York City Area Violent Protest Activity

For three consecutive nights, May 28-30, large crowds of several thousands of protestors fanned out over multiple boroughs, with violence breaking out in and around the Barclays Center, Fort Greene Park, Union Square, the 88th and 79th Precincts, and the Flatbush neighborhood of Brooklyn. In addition, several significant incidents of violence targeted police, including Molotov cocktails thrown at officers in RMPs.

Aftermath of May 30 violence in Union Square Area, Manhattan

- On May 30 at approximately 0057hrs in the 88th Pct., a female subject identified as [redacted]-year-old (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) threw a glass bottle filled with a flammable liquid at an unoccupied marked NYPD vehicle, which then caught on fire. A short time later, she was arrested along with an accomplice identified as [redacted]-year-old (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) who was driving her. Officers recovered two additional Molotov cocktails and a gas tank in the vehicle during preliminary searches. Both have been charged by the Eastern District of New York for intentionally damaging and attempting to cause damage and destroy, by means of fire and one or more explosives, an NYPD vehicle.
- On May 29 at approximately 2345hrs in the 71st Pct., a female subject, identified as [redacted]-year-old (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) threw a glass bottle filled with a flammable liquid at a marked NYPD vehicle with officers inside. After the bottle failed to ignite, the officers exited the vehicle and arrested (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) who bit one of the officers while resisting arrest. (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) has been charged with multiple crimes, including four counts of attempted murder, and federal charges for use of the improvised incendiary device.<sup>2</sup> (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) was found in possession of a second firebomb, and claims she was given the firebombs by a man and a woman who match the descriptors of the subjects in the 88th Pct. incident.
- On May 29 at approximately 2345hrs, a large group of protestors approached the 79 Pct. Among them was a male subject, who refused to disperse. He reportedly became aggressive and combative and was arrested. Officers recovered a loaded .380 caliber firearm from his pocket.

LAW ENFORCEMENT SENSITIVE

SITUATIONAL AWARENESS

Violent protests in the NYC Area have been marked by several tactics reminiscent of direct action, including lighting trash cans on fire, deliberately marching against traffic or blocking streets, trespassing on buildings such as the Barclays Center, launching projectiles from buildings, lighting vehicles on fire and livestreaming them, and the use of drones to monitor officer deployment activity.

Officers are reminded to remain vigilant:

Continued Threats

In addition to the threat of immediate physical violence, NYPD officers involved in the protest activity have been doxed, and their personal identifying information has been circulated on social media, resulting in numerous personal threats directed against the officers. There has also been at least one reported bomb threat made to a local precinct.

- At approximately 1730hrs on May 29, an NYPD officer allegedly pushed a female protester out of the way as she ran toward him and a supervisory officer; the incident was recorded and posted on Twitter. Shortly after midnight on May 30, a separate Twitter user posted the officer's Facebook information and named him as the person involved in the incident. The officer and his girlfriend—who is also an NYPD officer—then began to receive threatening phone calls and texts sent from unknown numbers, including photos of his home.
- At approximately 1701 on May 29, an anonymous female called the Detective Squad Office at the 62nd Precinct and threatened to blow it up.

Implications

Unrest will likely continue as more details surrounding the death of George Floyd and the subsequent arrest of former officer Derek Chauvin, who has been charged with third-degree murder and second-degree manslaughter in the investigation of Floyd's death in police custody, are revealed.<sup>3</sup> In addition to potentially violent protestors, ideologically motivated violent extremists and opportunistic actors—while not necessarily aligned in their views with the protestors—could aim to take advantage of the unrest with the goal of promoting violence and exacerbating divisive tensions.

- Multiple REMVE-related Telegram channels have discussed carrying out attacks on protestors and law enforcement. On May 27, the Telegram channel, "TR," posted a photograph of a man holding a rifle and wearing mask with a skull, also known as a Totenkopf, and stated "if you are gonna go tour Minneapolis...don't forget essential kit." "TR," which was previously affiliated with an Atomwaffen Division (AWD) branch, routinely calls for political violence.<sup>4</sup>
- The May 30 issue of the ISIS-aligned Quraysh Media's magazine included the widely-circulated image of then-Minneapolis police officer Derek Chauvin with his knee on George Floyd's neck as he was being arrested, likely to attempt to entice new recruits with their claims of inclusivity. # Use of Force Policy, Guidelines and Procedures Handbook

Office of Training and Development
HB 4500-01C

May 2014

U.S. Customs and
Border Protection

I. Policy on the Use of Force By CBP Officers and Agents

A. General Guidelines

1. CBP policy on the use of force by Authorized Officers/Agents is derived from constitutional law, as interpreted by federal courts in cases such as Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386 (1989) and Tennessee v. Garner, 471 U.S. 1 (1985), federal statutes and applicable DHS and CBP policies.
2. Authorized Officers/Agents may use "objectively reasonable" force only when it is necessary to carry out their law enforcement duties.
3. The "reasonableness" of a particular use of force is based on the totality of circumstances known by the officer/agent at the time of the use of force and weighs the actions of the officer/agent against the rights of the subject, in light of the circumstances surrounding the event. Reasonableness will be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer/agent on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight.
4. The calculus of reasonableness embodies an allowance for the fact that law enforcement officers/agents are often forced to make split-second decisions - in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving - about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation.
5. A use of force is "necessary" when it is reasonably required to carry out the Authorized Officer's/Agent's law enforcement duties in a given situation, considering the totality of facts and circumstances of such particular situation. A use of deadly force is "necessary" when the officer/agent has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to the officer/agent or to another person.
6. An Authorized Officer/Agent may have to rapidly escalate or de-escalate through use of force options, depending on the totality of facts and circumstances of the particular situation.
7. Based on the totality of circumstances, different officers/agents may have different responses to the same situation, any of which may be both reasonable and necessary. The level of force applied must reflect the totality of circumstances surrounding the situation, including the presence of imminent danger to the officer/agent or others.
8. If feasible, and if to do so would not increase the danger to the officer/agent or others, a verbal warning to submit to the authority of the officer/agent shall be given prior to the use of force. If a particular situation allows for the issuance of a verbal warning, the officer/agent:

- a. Should have a reasonable basis to believe that the subject can comprehend and comply with the warning; and
  - b. Allow sufficient time between the warning and the use of force to give the subject a reasonable opportunity to voluntarily comply with the warning.
9. Following any incident involving the use of force, Authorized Officers/Agents shall seek medical assistance for any person who appears, or claims to be, injured.

B. Objectively Reasonable and the Totality of Circumstances

1. The reasonableness inquiry for an application of force is an objective one: the question is whether the officer's/agent's actions are objectively reasonable in light of the totality of facts and circumstances confronting him or her, without regard to underlying intent or motivation.
2. In determining whether a use of force is "objectively reasonable" an Authorized Officer/Agent must give careful attention to the totality of facts and circumstances of each particular case, including:
  - a. Whether the subject poses an imminent threat to the safety of the officer/agent or others;
  - b. The severity of the crime at issue;
  - c. Whether the subject is actively resisting seizure or attempting to evade arrest by flight;
  - d. Whether the circumstances are tense, uncertain and rapidly evolving; and
  - e. The foreseeable risk of injury to involved subjects and others.
3. Totality of circumstances refers to all factors existing in each individual case. In addition to those listed in subsection B.2, these factors may include (but are not limited to):
  - a. The training, mental attitude, age, size and strength of the officer/agent;
  - b. The training, mental attitude, age, size and strength of the subject;
  - c. The weapon(s) involved;
  - d. The presence of other officers/agents, subjects or bystanders; and
  - e. Environmental conditions.

C. Use of Less-Lethal Force<sup>1</sup>

1. Less-lethal force is force that is not likely to cause serious physical injury or death.
2. Any use of less-lethal force must be both objectively reasonable and necessary in order to carry out the Authorized Officer's/Agent's law enforcement duties.
3. Less-lethal devices/weapons may be used in situations where empty-hand techniques are not sufficient to control disorderly or violent subjects.

D. Use of Deadly Force

1. Deadly force is force that is likely to cause serious physical injury or death.
2. The Department of Homeland Security Policy on the Use of Deadly Force governs the use of deadly force by all DHS employees.
3. Authorized Officers/Agents may use deadly force only when necessary, that is, when the officer/agent has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of serious physical injury or death to the officer/agent or to another person.
  - a. Serious Physical Injury - Injury which creates a substantial risk of death or which causes serious disfigurement, serious impairment of health or serious loss or impairment of the function of any bodily organ or structure or involves serious concussive impact to the head.
4. Except in limited circumstances during air or marine enforcement operations, discharging a firearm as a warning or signal is prohibited. Discharging a firearm at a person shall be done only with the intent of stopping that person from continuing the threatening behavior that justifies the use of deadly force.
5. Deadly force is not authorized solely to prevent the escape of a fleeing subject. Deadly force against a fleeing subject is only authorized if there is probable cause to believe that:
  - a. The subject has inflicted or threatens to inflict serious physical injury or death to the officer/agent or to another person; and
  - b. The escape of the subject poses an imminent threat of serious physical injury or death to the officer/agent or to another person.

<sup>1</sup> Referenced in prior versions of CBP policy or applicable regulations as "intermediate force" or "non-deadly force" and used herein with the same purpose and effect.

6. Authorized Officers/Agents shall not discharge their firearms at the operator of a moving vehicle, vessel or aircraft unless deadly force is necessary – that is, when the officer/agent has a reasonable belief that the operator poses an imminent danger of serious physical injury or death to the officer/agent or to another person.
  - a. Such deadly force may include a moving vehicle aimed at officers/agents or others present, but would not include a moving vehicle merely fleeing from officers/agents unless the vehicle or the escape of the subject poses an imminent threat of serious physical injury or death to the officer/agent or to another person.
  - b. The hazard of an uncontrolled conveyance shall be taken into consideration prior to the use of deadly force.
7. Firearms shall not be fired solely to disable motor vehicles, vessels, aircraft or other conveyances. The only exception is that Authorized Officers/Agents, when conducting maritime law enforcement operations, may use specifically authorized firearms and ammunition to disable moving vessels or other maritime conveyances.
8. Deadly force may be directed against dangerous or vicious animals in self-defense or in defense of another person.
9. Deadly force may also be used to euthanize an animal that appears to be seriously injured or diseased. In doing so, the Authorized Officer/Agent must be able to justify the use of deadly force to prevent the animal from additional suffering, eliminate a public health risk or to ensure public safety.
10. The act of establishing a grip, drawing a weapon or pointing a weapon does not constitute the use of deadly force.

E. The CBP Use of Force Continuum

1. The CBP Use of Force Continuum is an instructional model used to describe the levels of force an Authorized Officer/Agent may need to utilize to gain control over a resistant subject.
2. While it describes each of the different levels of force that may be used in response to subject behavior, it is not necessary to mechanically apply every step of the CBP Use of Force Continuum.
3. An Authorized Officer/Agent may have to rapidly escalate or de-escalate through the Continuum, depending on the totality of facts and circumstances of the particular situation.

4. Levels of Subject Behavior/Resistance:

- a. Compliant - A subject who is compliant/cooperative with an Authorized Officer's/Agent's control efforts.
- b. Passive Resistance - A subject who is not believed to represent an immediate threat or flight risk, and who is not offering physical resistance to an Authorized Officer's/Agent's control efforts, but is not cooperative.
- c. Active Resistance - A subject who offers physical or mechanical resistance to an Authorized Officer's/Agent's control efforts.
  - (1) Mechanical Resistance - A type of active resistance, where a subject uses a mechanical or other object to resist an officer/agent's control efforts. The subject's efforts are not directed toward the officer/agent but rather appear intended to thwart an officer's/agent's control efforts by physically securing or holding to another object.
- d. Assaultive Resistance (Physical Injury) - A subject whose resistance causes, or has the potential to cause, physical injury to the officer/agent, others, or self. This includes a subject's attempts (or apparent intent) to make physical contact in an attempt to control or assault the officer/agent.
- e. Assaultive Resistance (Serious Physical Injury/Death) - A subject whose resistance causes, or has the potential to cause, serious physical injury or death to the officer/agent, others, or self.

5. Levels of Officer/Agent Response:

- a. Cooperative Controls - Measures (including verbal commands) used to maintain control over a compliant subject.
- b. Contact Controls - Physical measures taken when verbal commands and officer presence are not effective in gaining compliance. Contact controls may include measures such as strategic positioning, escort holds, joint manipulation or immobilization or touch pressure point stimulation.
- c. Compliance Techniques - Actions taken when the subject is actively resisting the efforts of the officer/agent to establish and maintain control. Examples of compliance techniques include the use of Oleoresin Capsicum (OC) spray, strike pressure points, stunning techniques, takedowns, joint manipulations and use of an Electronic Control Weapon (ECW).

- d. Defensive Tactics - Actions taken when a subject has either assaulted the officer/agent or is displaying a willingness and intent to do so. Examples of defensive tactics are concentrated strikes involving the use of empty-hand techniques (e.g., the use of body parts as weapons), the Collapsible Straight Baton (CSB) and the ECW.
- e. Deadly Force - Actions taken when an Authorized Officer/Agent has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of serious physical injury or death to the officer/agent or to another person.

F. Use of Safe Tactics

1. Authorized Officers/Agents should seek to employ enforcement tactics and techniques that effectively bring an incident under control, while promoting the safety of the officer/agent and the public, and minimizing the risk for unintended injury and/or property damage.
2. Except where otherwise required by inspections or other operations, Authorized Officers/Agents should avoid standing directly in front of or behind a subject vehicle. Officers/agents should not place themselves in the path of a moving vehicle or use their body to block a vehicle's path.
3. Authorized Officers/Agents should, whenever reasonable, avoid placing themselves in positions where they have no alternative to using deadly force.
4. Authorized Officers/Agents shall not discharge their firearms in response to thrown or launched projectiles unless the officer/agent has a reasonable belief, based on the totality of circumstances (to include the size and nature of the projectiles), that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of serious physical injury or death to the officer/agent or to another person.

Officers/agents may be able to obtain a tactical advantage in these situations, through measures such as seeking cover or distancing themselves from the immediate area of danger.

G. DHS Commitment to Nondiscriminatory Law Enforcement and Screening Activities

1. The DHS Commitment to Nondiscriminatory Law Enforcement and Screening Activities policy statement is applicable to all situations where officers/agents exercise their use of force authority.

After receiving such assurances, an employee's failure to cooperate in an administrative investigation may result in disciplinary action up to and including removal.

3. If any CBP employee becomes aware of apparent misconduct or violation of CBP policy regarding the use of force, that employee shall notify the Office of Internal Affairs via the Joint Intake Center (JIC).

4. Use of Less-Lethal Force Resulting in Serious Physical Injury or Death

Any use of less-lethal force that results in serious physical injury or death shall follow the procedures for reporting the use of deadly force.

5. Use of a Less-Lethal Device as Deadly Force

Any use of a less-lethal device as deadly force (used in a manner likely to cause serious physical injury or death) shall follow the procedures for reporting the use of deadly force.

C. Use of Less-Lethal Devices/Techniques

1. Guidelines and Responsibilities

The following guidelines and responsibilities apply to all CBP less-lethal devices, systems and associated equipment. Additional device-specific guidelines are contained in the following subsections.

- a. Less-lethal devices may be deployed only by trained and certified CBP law enforcement personnel, and only in accordance with manufacturer's specifications and applicable DHS and CBP policy.
- b. A less-lethal device is not a substitute for the use of deadly force. This, however, does not preclude the use of a less-lethal device (or any other weapon) for this purpose if the use of deadly force would otherwise be objectively reasonable.
- c. Only less-lethal devices, systems and associated equipment authorized by UFCE shall be carried and deployed by Authorized Officers/Agents.
- d. If practical, CBP supervisory personnel shall photograph or videotape any marks or injuries resulting from the use of less-lethal devices.

- (1) If the marks or alleged injuries to be documented are on a private portion of the subject's body, CBP personnel shall make reasonable efforts to ensure privacy before the documentation is recorded. In that instance (to the extent possible) the recording must be made by an officer/agent of the same gender as the subject.

- e. Less-lethal devices, systems and associated equipment shall not be altered in any way without the written authorization of the Director of UFCE.
- f. UFCE shall be responsible for development and approval of less-lethal device training materials and certification standards.
- g. Authorized Officers/Agents are responsible for the general care and safeguarding of the less-lethal devices and equipment issued to them, and may be subject to disciplinary action for any loss or damage resulting from negligence by the officer/agent.
- h. Less-lethal devices, systems and/or associated equipment shall be inventoried, transferred, and excessed shall be inventoried/accounted for in accordance with the requirements of Chapter 8.
- i. Less-lethal devices, systems and/or associated equipment shall only be purchased through contracts and procedures established by UFCE. Purchase Card purchases of less-lethal equipment is prohibited without written approval from the Director of UFCE.
- j. UFCE shall be responsible for the periodic review of the usage of less-lethal devices, systems and associated equipment, in order to evaluate compliance with policy, as well as to assess their overall safety and effectiveness.

2. Empty-Hand Strikes

- a. Strikes targeting strike pressure points may be utilized as a compliance tool on a subject offering, at a minimum, active resistance.
- b. Other strikes (e.g., punches, kicks, etc.) may be utilized as a defensive tactic on a subject offering, at a minimum, assaultive resistance.

3. Oleoresin Capsicum (OC) Spray

- a. OC Spray may be utilized as a compliance tool on a subject offering, at a minimum, active resistance.
- b. Authorized Officers/Agents may only use chemical agents authorized by the Director of UFCE. Officers/agents may not carry personally-owned OC devices for duty use.
- c. Authorized Officers/Agents shall decontaminate exposed subject(s) as soon as practicable.

- d. Authorized Officers/Agents are responsible for advising their supervisors when the devices issued to them are approaching the end of their useable life so that they can be replaced prior to their expiration date.
- e. Authorized Officers/Agents are required to turn in expired, damaged, or empty OC spray canisters to local training staff for proper disposal in accordance with local Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) requirements.
- f. The TSA and FAA do not permit any chemical agents in the cabin of a commercial aircraft. As provided by 49 C.F.R. § 175.10, self-defense spray (mace or pepper spray) may be carried in checked baggage, provided the container does not exceed four fluid ounces and has a positive means to prevent accidental discharge. Chemical agents shall be carried aboard CBP aircraft only in accordance with CBP Air Operations Handbook (AOH) guidelines.

4. Collapsible Straight Batons (CSB)

- a. A CSB may be utilized as a defensive tool on a subject offering, at a minimum, assaultive resistance.
- b. Authorized Officers/Agents may only use CSBs authorized by the Director of UFCE. Officers/agents may not carry personally-owned batons for duty use.
- c. The following acts and techniques with the CSB are prohibited when using less-lethal force:
  - (1) Choke holds, carotid control holds, and other neck restraints;
  - (2) Use of a baton to apply “come-along” holds to the neck area; and
  - (3) Intentional strikes with the baton to the head, the neck, the face, the groin, the solar plexus, the kidneys or the spinal column.

5. Electronic Control Weapons (ECWs)

An ECW is a less-lethal weapon which is designed to use short-duration electronic pulses to cause Neuro-Muscular Incapacitation (NMI) and/or pain, with minimal risk of serious physical injury or death.

- a. An ECW may be utilized as a compliance tool on a subject offering, at a minimum, active resistance in a manner that the Authorized Officer/Agent reasonably believes may result in injury to themselves or to another person.

- b. An ECW should be deployed for one standard cycle (five seconds) and then evaluate the situation to determine if subsequent cycles are reasonable and necessary. Each ECW cycle must be both reasonable and necessary to overcome non-compliance by an actively resistant subject and to accomplish the officer/agent's law enforcement duties.
- c. A subject should not receive more than three ECW cycles. If the use of the ECW is unsuccessful, the Authorized Officer/Agent should transition to another reasonable force option.
- d. CBP personnel should not use an ECW, and should consider other force options, with respect to subjects who are: small children; elderly; pregnant; low body mass index (BMI) persons; near known flammable materials; on elevated surfaces; operating conveyances; adjacent to traffic; in water sufficient to drown; running; or handcuffed.
  - (1) Authorized Officers/Agents should use an ECW on a subject who is running only when the officer/agent has reasonable belief that the subject presents an imminent threat of injury to an officer/agent or another person. The threat presented by the subject must outweigh the risk of injury to the subject that might occur as a result of an uncontrolled fall while the subject is running.
- e. Authorized Officers/Agents should not intentionally expose a subject to more than one ECW at a time.
- f. Authorized Officers/Agents shall not intentionally target the head, neck, groin or female breast.
- g. When practicable and when other Authorized Officers/Agents are present, officers/agents should verbalize "TASER, TASER, TASER" prior to deployment to warn fellow officers/agents of the imminent use of an ECW. This will alert fellow officers/agents to prepare to control a subject under the power of an ECW.
- h. ECWs shall be carried on the non-gun side in a UFCE-authorized holster issued by CBP or purchased through an official uniform purchase program.
- i. Any subject in CBP custody who has been exposed to an ECW shall, as soon as practicable, be seen by an Emergency Medical Technician or other trained medical professional.
- j. CBP personnel trained and certified in the use of an ECW may remove probes embedded in a person's skin, provided the probes are not embedded in a sensitive area like the head, neck, genitals, or female breast tissue.

Probe removals in those instances shall be performed by a trained medical professional.

- k. ECW probes are considered a biohazard and shall be disposed of according to established biohazard disposal protocol.
  - l. Each ECW shall have all stored deployment and utilization data downloaded quarterly. ROs shall ensure that all downloaded ECW data is securely stored and maintained for a minimum of three years.
  - m. After each ECW deployment, data related to that deployment shall be downloaded and saved. A copy of the data report shall be attached to the use of force report in the CBP Use of Force Reporting System (UFRS).
6. Compressed Air Launchers (e.g., PLS and FN303)

Compressed air launchers are less-lethal impact/chemical irritant delivery systems that are powered by compressed air. The launchers can deliver a variety of less-lethal projectiles including kinetic impact, PAVA pepper powder and non-toxic marking rounds.

- a. A compressed air launcher may be used for area saturation against subject(s) who, at a minimum, demonstrate active resistance.
- b. A compressed air launcher may be used as a kinetic impact delivery system on subject(s) who, at a minimum, demonstrate assaultive resistance.
- c. Authorized Officers/Agents may also use a PLS to remove subjects who are intentionally covering the engine of a vessel in order to deploy marine disabling fire. Such deployment must target the strike pressure points of the outer extremities (i.e., arms and legs).
- d. Authorized Officers/Agents may use a compressed air launcher to mark a conveyance for identification purposes in situations where a conveyance has failed to comply with another officer's/agent's lawful attempt to stop it, in situations where the use of a controlled tire deflation device would not be reasonable, or if an involved vehicle is leaving the scene of an enforcement action without authorization. When deploying a compressed air launcher for marking and identification purposes, officers/agents may not target the conveyance's windows.
- e. Authorized Officers/Agents should not use a compressed air launcher, and should consider other force options, on subjects who are: small children; elderly; pregnant; or operating a conveyance.

- f. Authorized Officers/Agents may use the PLS on subjects between 3 and 60 feet away as a kinetic impact device. Officers/agents may use the PLS on subjects up to 150 feet away as an area saturation device.
  - g. Authorized Officers/Agents may use the FN303 on subjects between 10 to 225 feet away as a kinetic impact device. Officers/agents engaging subjects with the FN303 from 10 to 20 feet should target the subject's lower extremities. Officers/agents engaging subjects greater than 20 feet may target the lower torso, or upper and lower extremities (i.e., arms and legs).
  - h. The FN303 shall not be deployed if the officer/agent is less than 10 feet from the subject unless the use of deadly force is reasonable and necessary.
  - i. The intentional targeting of areas where there is a substantial risk of serious physical injury or death is considered a use of deadly force. Authorized Officers/Agents shall not intentionally target the head, neck, spine, or groin of the intended subject, unless the use of deadly force is reasonable.
7. Mmunition Launchers (e.g., 40mm) and Less-Lethal Specialty Impact and Chemical Munitions (LLSI-CM)

Mmunition Launchers are a less-lethal specialty impact/chemical munition (LLSI-CM) delivery system that are designed to deliver an impact projectile, a chemical irritant projectile or a combination projectile with more accuracy, higher velocity, and longer range than a projectile deployed by hand.

LLSI-CM can also be delivered by means of a device that is designed to be hand thrown by an Authorized Officer/Agent.

- a. Subject to the exceptions described in subsection c below, a Less-Lethal Chemical Munition (LLCM) may be utilized as a compliance tool on a subject offering, at a minimum, active resistance.
- b. Subject to the exceptions described in subsection c below, a Less-Lethal Specialty Impact (LLSI) munition may be utilized as a compliance tool on a subject offering, at a minimum, assaultive resistance.
- c. Authorized Officers/Agents should not use a LLSI-CM and should consider other force options with respect to subjects who are: small children; elderly; pregnant; near known flammable materials (when using a pyrotechnic device); or operating conveyances.
- d. When practicable and when other officers are present, Authorized Officers/Agents should verbalize "Less-Lethal, Less-Lethal, Less-Lethal" prior to deployment to warn fellow officers/agents of the imminent use of a LLSI-CM. This will alert fellow officers/agents to prepare for the deployment of a LLSI-CM.

- e. Authorized Officers/Agents shall not intentionally target the head, neck, groin or female breast.
  - f. Any subject in CBP custody who has been exposed to a LLSI-CM shall, as soon as practicable, be seen by an Emergency Medical Technician or other trained medical professional.
  - g. The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) prohibits the transportation of LLCM's and LLSI-CM combinations (e.g., CS (O-Chlorobenzylidene-malononitrile) Stingball) onboard commercial aircraft. All CBP employees will comply with this regulation. Transportation of LLSI-CM munitions will be accomplished by the use of a CBP vehicle/vessel and/or an authorized commercial ground carrier.
  - h. The transportation of LLSI-CM onboard CBP vessels must conform with the appropriate safety standards such as storage and transportation of the devices in insulated, water proof containers to prevent damage or unintended discharge.
  - i. Once the safety pin has been pulled on a hand-held LLSI-CM the deployment of the hand-held LLSI-CM should be immediate. The safety pin should never be reinserted in the hand-held LLSI-CM once it has been pulled.
  - j. Approval from the Director of UFCE is required prior to each individual purchase of LLSI-CM.
8. Controlled Tire Deflation Devices (CTDDs)

CTDDs are specialized devices whose deployment results in the controlled deflation of a vehicle tire.

- a. A CTDD may only be deployed with supervisory authorization and when the immediate or potential danger to the public created by the deployment of the CTDD is less than the immediate or potential danger to the public should the suspect vehicle be allowed to proceed without deployment of the CTDD.
  - (1) The CTDD shall be deployed in a manner that minimizes risk of injury to persons or damage to property.
- b. A CTDD may be deployed:
  - (1) When an Authorized Officer/Agent directs a motor vehicle to stop and the vehicle fails to comply with the officer's/agent's order;
  - (2) When a vehicle flees from the primary or secondary inspection area of a checkpoint or port of entry (POE);

- (3) When a vehicle unlawfully crosses the border between POEs;
  - (4) When an Authorized Officer/Agent, acting within the guidelines set forth in this Handbook, is trying to prevent a suspect vehicle from leaving the area where a warrant is being served or where officers/agents have determined, or developed at least reasonable suspicion, that a crime is being or may have been committed;
  - (5) When the configuration at permanent checkpoints allows for the safe deployment of the CTDD to prevent vehicles from avoiding inspection; or
  - (6) When another law enforcement agency requests deployment of the CTDD in an emergency. Supervisory approval is required unless exigent circumstances can be articulated. At checkpoints, supervisory authorization may be granted in advance for specific situations involving other law enforcement agencies.
- c. The road where an Authorized Officer/Agent is considering the deployment of a CTDD should provide an unimpeded view of vehicular traffic from all directions. The CTDD may be used only in areas where topography, roadway surfaces, and vehicular conditions indicate that deployment can be accomplished with reasonable safety.
- d. The Authorized Officer/Agent who deploys the CTDD should:
- (1) During deployment of a CTDD, remain in visual contact and control of the CTDD unless the deploying officer/agent can articulate why visual contact and control are not safe and/or practical;
  - (2) Prior to deploying the CTDD, ensure that all CBP and other agency personnel involved are notified of the pending deployment of the CTDD via available communication methods. Communication shall be maintained between officers/agents in the deployment area unless exigent circumstances preclude such communication;
  - (3) Remove or deactivate the CTDD before becoming involved in the apprehension of the subject(s) unless exigent circumstances preclude such removal or deactivation; and
  - (4) Remember that safety is paramount. The officer/agent retains the discretion not to deploy the CTDD and should not do so if safety concerns are an issue.
- e. Authorized Officers/Agents shall not deploy a CTDD in school zones when children are present or traveling to or from the school, or in cases when the danger to the public outweighs the enforcement benefit.

- f. With the exception of Authorized Officers/Agents conducting enforcement operations on CBP aircraft, an officer/agent shall not overtake a pursued vehicle in order to deploy a CTDD.
  - g. Authorized Officers/Agents shall not deploy a CTDD to stop the following types of vehicles, except where an immediate danger to life makes it reasonable to deploy the CTDD: two or three-wheeled vehicles; vehicles known or reasonably believed to be transporting hazardous materials; or vehicles that there is a reason to believe would pose an unusual hazard to officers/agents or the public.
  - h. When a CTDD causes unintentional damage to a vehicle:
    - (1) The involved officer/agent will immediately report the incident to the duty supervisor;
    - (2) The duty supervisor shall provide a tort claim form (SF-95) to the driver of the vehicle for the damages to the vehicle that may have been caused by the CTDD along with instructions on how to complete the form and where to send the claim;
    - (3) In cases when the vehicle is rendered immobile, procedures must be in place to assist the driver in making the vehicle mobile; and
    - (4) The officer/agent involved in the incident shall document the incident in accordance with operational protocols. The incident report shall describe exactly what transpired and provide details of any assistance rendered to the driver.
9. Controlled Noise and Light Distraction Devices (CNLDDs)

A CNLDD is a pyrotechnic device that, once activated, emits a bright light and loud noise to momentarily disorient and confuse subjects; giving officers/agents a brief tactical advantage so they can bring the situation to a successful law enforcement resolution.

- a. The pre-planned use of a CNLDD during law enforcement operations requires the approval of a Supervisor or Team Leader. In exigent circumstances, a CNLDD may be deployed without prior supervisory approval.
- b. When practicable and when other Authorized Officers/Agents are present, officers/agents should verbalize "BANG OUT" prior to deployment to warn fellow officers/agents of the imminent use of a CNLDD.
- c. The Supervisor or Team Leader shall ensure that all officers/agents wear appropriate personal protective equipment during any operation utilizing CNLDDs (see specific Operational Order for required equipment).

- d. The Supervisor or Team Leader shall (when it is reasonably anticipated that CNLDDs will be employed and where practical) have a standard vehicle fire extinguisher (or larger) and appropriate medical equipment available at the scene or at a location nearby.
- e. Once the safety pin has been pulled on a CNLDD the deployment of the hand held CNLDD should be immediate. The safety pin should never be reinserted into the hand held CNLDD once it has been pulled.
- f. CNLDDs that have malfunctioned should be disposed of according to manufacturer's recommendations.
- g. Authorized Officers/Agents should not use a CNLDD, and should consider other force options, with respect to subjects who are: small children; elderly; pregnant; or near known flammable materials.
- h. Environmental considerations should be evaluated prior to deployment of a CNLDD.
- i. Responsible supervisory personnel must ensure that ATF regulations and guidelines are known and followed by all subordinate personnel involved in the handling, storage, or use of these items.
- j. The RO (or his or her designee) shall ensure that CNLDDs are only issued to trained and certified officers/agents with an articulated need for a CNLDD.
- k. The issuance of CNLDDs shall be recorded on a CBP Form 259 signed by appropriate supervisory or authorized issuing personnel indicating the amount and type of CNLDD issued, record serial numbers, and to whom received them and for what reason. The receiving party will countersign the CBP Form 259.
- l. The RO (or designee) shall maintain the CBP Form 259s in a folder (electronic or paper) for a period of not less than two years.
- m. Responsible supervisory personnel shall maintain a written log regarding the operational and training use of CNLDDs. This log shall include the following information: how many CNLDDs were utilized; to whom they were issued; the serial number(s) of the CNLDDs; and how they were utilized (training or operations). This log will be periodically reviewed by the RO (or designee) to ensure compliance.
- n. Approval from the Director of UFCE is required prior to each individual purchase of CNLDDs.

D. Warning Shots and Disabling Fire

1. Warning Shots - Warning shots are not permitted except as follows:
  - a. Warning shots may be used by Authorized Officers/Agents when conducting maritime law enforcement operations only as a signal to stop a vessel.
  - b. Warning shots may be used by Authorized Officers/Agents when conducting aviation law enforcement operations only as a signal to an aircraft to change course and follow direction to leave airspace.

Warning shots are to be used as a signal only. They are used to attract attention after all other available means of signaling have failed. This conforms to United States and international law, which recognize warning shots across the bow of vessels, or across the nose of an aircraft, as legitimate signals.

2. Disabling Fire - Firearms may not be used solely to disable moving vehicles, vessels, aircraft or other conveyances, except when Authorized Officers/Agents are conducting maritime law enforcement activities against maritime conveyances.
  - a. When a pursued vessel fails to comply with an order to stop, and warning shots have been deployed, the CBP Vessel or Aircraft Commander may elect to authorize disabling fire.
  - b. The authority to commence disabling fire rests with the Vessel or Aircraft Commander. The decision to fire, however, ultimately rests with the shooter. It is the shooter's responsibility to ensure the safe deployment of the disabling rounds.
3. Warning shots and disabling fire shall be deployed with strict adherence to UFCE-approved programs, policies, procedures and directives.
4. Only ordnance approved by the Director of UFCE, shall be authorized for use in conducting warning and/or disabling fire.
5. Only those Authorized Officers/Agents who have successfully completed UFCE-approved training are authorized to utilize warning shots and/or disabling fire.
6. Warning shots and/or disabling fire poses a potential hazard; therefore, good judgment must be exercised at all times. They cannot be fired where there is a reasonable belief that personal injury, death, or unintended property damage will occur. Safety shall always be the first consideration when utilizing warning shots and/or disabling fire.
7. The use of warning shots and/or disabling fire is considered less-lethal force, and shall be reported in accordance with the requirements of this chapter.

E. Emergency Situations

MEMORANDUM FOR: All DHS Employees

FROM: Kevin K. McAleenan
Acting Secretary

SUBJECT: Information Regarding First Amendment Protected Activities

I am proud of the work you do every day to protect our Homeland. You serve as America's Frontline and your commitment to the highest ethical and moral principles is a testament to each of you, the founding values of our Department, and our nation. It is in this spirit that I write to you today to emphasize – as you all know – that the privilege of administering and enforcing federal laws carries with it the responsibility for upholding the principles of professionalism, impartiality, courtesy, and respect for civil rights and civil liberties.

DHS does not profile, target, or discriminate against any individual for exercising his or her First Amendment rights.<sup>1</sup> Under the Privacy Act of 1974, all DHS personnel<sup>2</sup> are prohibited from maintaining records that describe how a U.S. citizen (USC) or alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence (LPR)<sup>3</sup> exercises his or her First Amendment rights, “unless expressly authorized by statute or by the individual about whom the record is maintained or unless pertinent to and within the scope of an authorized law enforcement activity.”<sup>4</sup>

Information, in any form, regarding how an individual exercises First Amendment rights shall include (among other things):

1. Information about an individual's religious beliefs and practices;
2. Information about an individual's political or personal beliefs or associations, academic or scientific inquiries, or the expressions thereof;

<sup>1</sup> The First Amendment provides that “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.” U.S. Const. amend. I.

<sup>2</sup> For purposes of this memorandum, “DHS personnel” includes all DHS employees, including those who are law enforcement agents and officers and those in the intelligence community, as well as those performing work on behalf of DHS employees, such as contractors.

<sup>3</sup> To the extent that a person's status is unknown or unclear, for the purposes of this policy that person shall be treated as an “individual” covered by the Privacy Act. 5 U.S.C. § 552a(a)(2).

www.dhs.gov

FOIA CBP 000276

3. Information about an individual's (including journalists, attorneys, academics, representatives of non-governmental organizations, etc.) reporting activities and documentation; or,
4. Information about an individual's associations with others for lawful purposes, including participation in protests or other non-violent demonstrations against government policy or actions.

Individuals' First Amendment rights are protected regardless of the medium of their communications. These principles apply to communications such as oral or written speech (both in paper and electronic form); non-verbal communications such as art works; and, in some instances, to commercial speech and gestures (such as physical rituals associated with prayer).

With those First Amendment rights in mind, I direct that DHS personnel shall not collect, maintain in DHS systems, or use information protected by the First Amendment unless (a) an individual has expressly granted their consent for DHS to collect, maintain, and use that information; (b) maintaining the record is expressly authorized by a federal statute; or (c) that information is relevant to a criminal, civil, or administrative activity relating to a law DHS enforces or administers. In addition, DHS personnel should not pursue by questioning, research or other means, information relating to how an individual exercises his or her First Amendment rights unless one or more of the same conditions applies.

Express Statutory Authorization

DHS agencies may collect and maintain records regarding First Amendment activity when doing so is expressly authorized by statute. As explained in longstanding guidance from the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), a statute need not specifically address the maintenance of records of First Amendment activities if it references activities that are relevant to a determination concerning an individual.<sup>5</sup> Thus, for example, DHS personnel may collect information on First Amendment protected activity when that activity is relevant to the granting or denial of a pending application.

Consent of the Individual

Records on First Amendment activity may be maintained if the individual voluntarily provides it, thereby consenting to its use by DHS. For example, "if an individual volunteers information on civic or religious activities in order to enhance his chances of receiving a benefit, such as

<sup>5</sup> Privacy Act Implementation, Guidelines and Responsibilities, 40 Fed. Reg. 28,948, 28,965 (July 9, 1975) (hereinafter OMB Guidelines). The Guidelines specifically cite to the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) as an example: "[S]ince the Immigration and Nationality Act makes the possibility of religious or political persecution relevant to a stay of deportation, the information on these subjects may be admitted in evidence, and therefore would not be prohibited by [subsection (e)(7)]." OMB Guidelines, at 28,965. Many other INA provisions potentially involve consideration of First Amendment activity. E.g., 8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(43) (definition of refugee, for purpose of refugee and asylum eligibility determinations, includes persecution based on membership in social group, religion, or political opinion); 8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(3)(B) (inadmissibility of any alien who, inter alia, "endorses or espouses terrorist activity or persuades others to endorse or espouse terrorist activity or support a terrorist organization"); 8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(3)(D) (ground of inadmissibility for membership or affiliation with the Communist or other totalitarian party); 8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(3)(F) (ground of inadmissibility for association with terrorist organizations); 8 U.S.C. 1227(a)(4)(B) (deportability of aliens admitted to the United States if described in terrorism-related grounds of inadmissibility); 8 U.S.C. 1424 (prohibition upon the naturalization of persons opposed to government or law, or who favor totalitarian forms of government).

executive clemency, the agency may consider information thus volunteered.”<sup>6</sup> As applied to DHS, individuals may voluntarily provide consent in submitting their associations and beliefs when applying for naturalization pursuant to filing USCIS Form N-400<sup>7</sup> or may proactively provide information in written materials, including correspondence, or during an inspection or encounter.

Relevant to Law Enforcement Activity

If the use of information regarding First Amendment protected activities is not otherwise covered by one or both of the exceptions discussed above (explicit statutory authority and consent), DHS personnel may include such information in DHS systems if the information is pertinent to and within the scope of an authorized criminal, civil, or administrative law enforcement activity.<sup>8</sup>

For example, information about First Amendment protected activities is pertinent to and within the scope of DHS’s administration or enforcement of a statute, regulation, or executive order when all DHS personnel:

1. Document questions and responses relating to an individual’s occupation, purpose for international travel, or any merchandise the individual seeks to bring across the border;
2. Document questions, responses, or other information to validate information supplied by an individual or determine whether potential criminal, civil, or administrative violations exist relating to the laws that DHS enforces or administers;
3. Document journalistic or scientific research, academic inquiry, and/or analysis or questions and responses relating to information regarding an individual indicating a potential violation of a law DHS enforces or administers, or a threat to border security, national security, officer safety, or public safety;
4. Document research and/or analysis relating to activities protected by the First Amendment to the extent that it may facilitate an individual’s travel by, for example, verifying information provided by the individual —(e.g., validating a visa based on a religious purpose); or,
5. Take into account information regarding religion in order to identify whether a reasonable accommodation for an individual’s religious beliefs would be appropriate. This may include subsequent documentation of relevant information in DHS records regarding the action (for example, noting that a certain action was undertaken as an accommodation or noting that an accommodation was requested or deemed appropriate).

Each of us is called to do an extraordinarily important job for our nation. In executing this mission, it is my job to ensure that you are empowered to do so in accordance with our highest moral, ethical, and legal obligations. To this end, I have tasked the DHS Office for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties and the DHS Privacy Office to review existing guidance and develop new

<sup>7</sup> It must be noted that DHS/USCIS may also collect this information pursuant to its statutory authority in determining whether the applicant comes under section 313 of the INA’s (8 U.S.C. 1424) prohibition upon the naturalization of persons opposed to government or law, or who favor totalitarian forms of government. Thus, collecting and maintaining this information is lawful both because of express statutory authorization as described above, and because the applicant consented to providing it by signing and filing the application.

<sup>8</sup> DHS may still maintain records consistent with 552a(e)(7) even if there is no ongoing or current law enforcement investigation.

guidance, where appropriate, to assist the operational components in implementing this memorandum.<sup>9</sup>

As you execute your mission each day, our Privacy and Civil Rights and Civil Liberties colleagues stand by to assist with any further questions or concerns you may have on this topic. Please contact (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) Acting Chief Privacy Officer and (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) CRCL Deputy Officer for Programs and Compliance, and their staffs with those questions. Please contact your Component Counsel Offices with any legal questions.

<sup>9</sup> Nothing in this policy memorandum or tasking otherwise impairs the statutory or delegated authorities and responsibilities of the Privacy Office or the Office for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, including the authority to “investigate complaints and information indicating possible abuses of civil rights or civil liberties” under 6 U.S.C. § 345 or investigate noncompliance DHS privacy policies under 6 U.S.C. § 142.

Only thing I've seen so far indicating violence is a Decolonize This Place event publicized to begin at 1830 in the Bronx that has pushed a violent narrative, showing a picture of a burning RMP. That doesn't mean it's not simmering out there.

Be Safe!

Good morning,

FYSA. There are reports coming out of the Fusion Center in Washington State that they expect violence to substantially escalate based on the death of two African Americans in custody. The first alleged incident occurred on 3 March and is in the news. The second alleged incident occurred during the period at night between 3 to 4 June and allegedly had fought with police earlier in the evening.

Have you seen anything in your channels that would suggest an uptick of violence? I haven't seen anything or that the news has reached the NYFO AOR at this time. Everything appears to be on the West Coast, but could have a ripple effect to our AOR.

Thanks,

Ladies and Gentleman

An IDECC is being Activated for tomorrow Saturday 7/25/2020. It will be Commanded by SGT (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) beginning at 1100 hours. Your presence is always appreciated as our partnering agencies.

Thank you and Stay Safe.

Saturday, 7/25/20: 1100 – IDECC has been activated, due to: recent dismantling of City Hall Protest Camp by NYPD/NYC Officials. There is suspected possibility of riots, protests and violence.

We will be going back to the original way we used to send IDECC emails out to CBP personnel. Instead of sending hourly updates as we've been doing due to the civil unrest starting back in late May, for the purposes of officer safety and awareness, which included JFK and Newark WCs and other personnel,

Instead we will send out updates only when/if necessary based on anything that directly affects and/or relates to CBP NY Field Office operations, JFK Airport, JFK CBP operations, Newark Airport, Newark Airport/Seaport CBP operations, CBP-nationwide, and anything that has a nexus to terrorism. This is the same way all other IDECCs (besides the George Floyd Protests) have been done, in an attempt to minimize the amount of emails clogging up people's email inboxes and avoid unnecessary updates.

It should be noted that while the NYPD shooting from late last night/early this morning has so far be deemed NOT associated with the protests/rioting, the overall feeling internally from NYPD and other LEO sources is that tensions will escalate based on two factors:

1. The shootings may ignite further boosts of confidence in agitators/rioters
2. NYPD/LEO response may increase in forcefulness as there will be a belief that the shooting, while unassociated with the protests, has been a direct result of the city leaders' inability to control and support law enforcement

Anything further I hear I will send out

Good morning,

FYSA. There are reports coming out of the Fusion Center in Washington State that they expect violence to substantially escalate based on the death of two African Americans in custody. The first alleged incident occurred on 3 March and is in the news. The second alleged incident occurred during the period at night between 3 to 4 June and allegedly had fought with police earlier in the evening.

Have you seen anything in your channels that would suggest an uptick of violence? I haven't seen anything or that the news has reached the NYFO AOR at this time. Everything appears to be on the West Coast, but could have a ripple effect to our AOR.

Thanks,
